THE ICE HOTEL

For many years the Arctic was a popular destination in the summer season to see the land of the midnight sun but in winter the few inhabitants had the snow and ice to themselves. By the end of the 1980s it was decided that the dark and cold winter should be seen as an advantage. In the winter of 1990 the French artist Jannot Derit was invited to have the opening of an exhibition in a specially built igloo (a building made of snow) in the little town of Jukkasjarvi on the frozen Torne River. The building, named Arctic Hall, attracted many interested visitors to the area. One night a group of foreign guests decided it would be a good idea to sleep in the Arctic Hall. The following morning the brave group was very pleased with their experience and the idea of an ice hotel was born. Today it is world famous. As soon as winter begins, a team of snow builders, architects and artists from all over the world come to Jukkasjarvi and they make the hotel for that year. As one part is completed, it opens to visitors and overnight guests, while the other parts are still being built. The first part is completed in December and each week after that a new part opens, until January 7th when the hotel is completed. As the ICE HOTEL is built under the open sky, using the natural materials of the winter season, the finishing date depends on nature and therefore there are sometimes changes to the plan. In the spring, as the weather gets warmer, the hotel melts.

Inside the hotel, the temperature is never colder than -5°C to -8°C , however cold it may be outside. Winter outer clothes such as warm overalls, hats and gloves are included in the cost of guests' stay at the hotel. In addition to this, it is a good idea for guests to bring sweaters and a scarf as well as plenty of woolen socks and to choose footwear that is larger than normal to allow space for thick socks.

If you are planning to come to the hotel, you can buy warm sweaters, woolen socks and much more on the ICE HOTEL website. You can order these and the equipment you will need at the same time as you book your visit. The items will be delivered to your room when you check in.

16. F During the 1980s, few tourists used to go to the Arctic in summer. F
 17. F The artist encouraged people to sleep in the Arctic Hall. F
 18. T Each winter, guests come and sleep in the hotel before it is finished. T
 19. F Progress when building the hotel is influenced by the weather. F
 20. T Some clothes are provided by the hotel. T

III. Read the text and questions below. For each question, circle the correct letter A, B, C, or D.

They said it would be fun!

So, you think you'd like to be a film extra? Well, read this description of Chris Maitlan's last job and then decide!

When my phone rang last Thursday, I recognised the number immediately as my agent Caroline's. She asked if I wanted to work the next day on a film called Day of Disaster. My diary was full that week, but I said I would cancel my plans for the next day. I was worried that if I turned her down now, she would never offer me work again. Also, I needed the money.

I arrived at the film set on time, at 5 a.m., still half asleep. The assistant director told me to go to the costume department, where they put lots of nasty, sticky make-up on me to make it look like I had been in an accident. Then, for the next few hours, we just had to wait.

Most of us had forgotten to bring anything to read and we were too far away to watch the filming, so we passed the morning talking and joking together. Finally, the assistant director came over. He told me I was going to play a blind man and put a bandage over my eyes. During the filming, the other extras had to look after me. Some time after lunch, I took off my bandage and threw it away. The assistant director asked me what I had done with it, but I told him I'd accidentally lost it that afternoon. Luckily he believed me!

At 7 p.m., the director said we could go and have our make-up removed. I was so keen to get home I got straight into my car still covered in blood and dirt. I don't know what the garage staff thought when I stopped to fill up with petrol!

21. What is the writer doing in the text?

- A giving advice on how to become a film extra
- B explaining why he wanted to become a film extra
- C giving an accurate description of the work of film extras
- D complaining about the conditions in which film extras work

22. What does Chris say about Caroline's offer of work?

- A He felt he had to accept it, even though he had something else to do.
- B He was a bit disappointed with the kind of work she offered.
- C He was excited because he thought the film sounded interesting.
- D He was surprised at the amount of money she offered.

23. Chris spent his time in the waiting area

- A chatting to the other extras.
- B putting his make-up and costume on
- C reading the book he had brought with him.
- D watching the stars of the film performing.

24. Why did the other extras have to help Chris?

- A He got injured during filming
- B He couldn't see what he was doing.
- C He had never done this kind of work before.
- D He had thrown away part of his costume.

25. What would Chris say about his day as a film extra?

- A I felt lively at the beginning of the day, but by the end I was really tired and couldn't wait to get home.
- B I was held up in traffic in the morning but once I got there I enjoyed getting dressed up in my costume.
- C Most of the people there were very friendly but I didn't get on with the assistant director - I had an argument with him.
- D It was a long day, although we didn't do that much work. We finished late so I didn't stay behind to get cleaned up.

II. This is part of a letter you receive from an English pen-friend:

I guess there are many traditional festivals in your country. What's the most important one? Why do people celebrate this festival? Write and tell me all about it.

Now write a letter answering your pen-friend's questions. (about 100 words)

Hi John,

I just received your letter and happy to know that you are fine. That's right. There are many traditional festivals in my country. But the most important one is Tet. It's Vietnamese new year which is based on the Lunar calendar. Vietnamese people celebrate Tet because it's time to say goodbye to the old year and welcome the new year. It is an occasion for pilgrims and family reunions. We usually have 10 days off. We prepare for Tet by cooking special holiday food for example Banh Chung, Banh Day, cleaning and decorate the house. We start forgetting about the troubles of the past year and hope for a better upcoming year. On the first days of the new year, we visit our relatives and friends, wish New Year's greetings, give lucky money to children and elderly people. We also have some New year party with special food.

Tet is really important and meaningful.

How about your country? Please tell me in the next letter.

Best regard,

Emily

Bloomingdale's

When the Bloomingdale brothers started doing business in New York City in 1872, clothes shops usually sold just one thing. But brothers Lyman and Joseph's new shop, known as the Great East Side Bazaar, carried a variety of items such as gloves, hats, skirt and underwear. It was the beginning of what would become a "department store".

The shop was very successful and, in 1886, the brothers relocated to 59th Street Lexington Avenue. This area of town was home to many wealthy people and, of course, to their servants. It was to this group of workers- not their employers- that Bloomingdale's originally aimed its services.

Bloomingdale's was always looking for new ways to bring in customers. Lyman advertised in newspapers and on posters to let people know about the store's products and prices. He had some interesting ideas of how to make Bloomingdale's more popular. For example, he was one of the first to install elevators, or "sky carriages" as he called them. The store also became the venue for fashion shows and other important occasions, including "Woman of the Year 1947".

In the 1960s, Bloomingdale's team came up with the first designer shopping bag. Since then many of these have become collectors' items and people pay a great deal for them. By the 1970s, the store was famous around the world. Even Queen Elizabeth paid a visit. For the first time in its history, it became fashionable with the under-25s. These days there are 36 Bloomingdale's stores in the USA and there are plans to open more. The first Bloomingdale's outside the USA is due to open in 2010 in Dubai.

- 16 F The brothers Lyman and Joseph called their first shop "Bloomingdale's" 17 F From its earliest days, Bloomingdale's attracted customers with a lot of money.
18 F People had to visit Bloomingdale's to find out what they sold.
19 T Bloomingdale's designer shopping bags can be worth a lot of money.
20 T The store began to attract younger customers in the 1970s.

III. Read the text below and circle the correct answer A, B, C or D for the questions.

Dream Job

Since 1969, Mark Harris has worked for a well-known toy manufacturer designing cars. When he started, he was the only man in the department, but now he is in charge of a team of 35 designers.

Mark first got interested in cars during his teens. His dad was a football coach and one day he took a car magazine away from one of his players during a practice session. He brought it home and gave it to Mark. From that moment on, cars became the love of Mark's life. He went on to study car design at university and then worked for a car company designing actual cars, before being persuaded by a friend to join the toy company and set up their design department.

Of all the cars he has designed, his favourite is the Silver Sunrise. It may not have achieved such high sales as some other cars, but it is important to Mark because it was the first time he was allowed to make a model that looked like a real car. 'Before that, the wheels on all the cars stuck out so they would go straight,' explained Mark. The Silver Sunrise was the first one where the wheels were under the body. It meant it didn't work so well on a race track but it looked amazing.' Now in his 60s, Mark is approaching retirement. He finds it hard to imagine what that will be like. 'I have expensive hobbies, so it might be difficult to continue with them when I am no longer earning! Plus, I like coming in to work. Ideally I'd like to retire part time and work part time.'

21. In this text, the writer is

- A. giving information about how to become a toy designer.
 B. describing the career of one successful toy designer.
C. persuading people to consider a career as a toy designer.
D. saying what qualities are needed in a good toy designer.

22. Mark first became interested in cars

- A. after reading about them.
B. while he was at university.
C. when his father began to talk about them.
D. by talking to someone from his football team.

23. Why does Mark like the Silver Sunrise so much?

- A. It is his top-selling design. B. It is very easy to play with.
C. It is the first toy car he ever designed. D. It is more realistic than his earlier designs.

24. What does Mark say about retiring?

- A. He has no plans to retire in the near future.
 B. He would prefer not to give up work completely.
C. He is looking forward to taking up some new hobbies.
D. He has saved enough money to allow him to follow his interests.

45

25. What would Mark say about his job?

- A. It wasn't easy taking over such a big department as a young man, but I'll miss everyone when I leave.
- B. I'm proud of all the models I've designed. My only regret is that I never worked with real cars!
- C. My degree and previous work experience have been very helpful to me in my job. It's great to see how the design department has grown over the years
- D. As soon as I saw the advertisement for this job I knew it was for me. Luckily the company agreed!

IV. Read the following passage and circle the correct word A,B,C or D for each space.

I've just had a wonderful holiday. How about you? Did you go somewhere last summer? Can you tell me about your last holiday?

Now write a letter to your pen-friend telling him or her about your last holiday. (about 100 words)

Hello Peter

I am so glad to receive your letter. I think your holiday was very great and I love the picture you took with local people so much

I had a wonderful holiday last summer too. I went to Nha Trang with my friends for 5 days. That was the happiest memory in my life.

At Nha Trang, we spent time to go to the beach and go diving. The water there was perfectly blue; we could even see the ocean floor when we were on the boat. There are a lot of kind of fish there, they swum very fast when people tried to reach it. We went diving together and it was the best experience that I ever had. The food there was very delicious too. We ate a lot of specialties like octopus or jellyfish noodle. The jellyfish noodle was hard to eat at the first time but it was very delicious when we ate it the second time

That was a lot of thing we did last summer holiday. Have you prepared for the new school year? Let me know. I'm looking forward to hearing from you.

You friend

Adventure racing

Adventure racing developed from the triathlon, the three- part athletics race on foot, on bikes and in the water. During the 1980s athletes added a range of other activities, and adventure racing was born.

A typical adventure race for beginners lasts 4-6 hours and includes swimming in a lake or river, mountain biking and running across rough countryside. Advanced-level races can be over several days and may include sports such as rock- climbing, mountaineering, roller-skating or skiing. A city event might include biking down stone stairs, getting through a large pipe or descending on a rope from the top of block of flats. Adventure races include checkpoints along the route, where racers are given tasks designed to test their ability to think clearly when physically very tired. For this reason, adventure racing is known as a "thought sport": winning or losing depends not only on speed and strength, but also on skills such as map- reading, planning and decision- making.

Almost anyone can try adventure racing, but not for insurance purposes, you have to be 18 or over. For entry- level races you should be able to swim 1kilometre, cycle 20kilometres and run 5 kilometres. However, the ability to keep going without giving up is just as important as your sporting skill. If you decide to take adventure racing further, there are weekend training camps where you can learn more about various aspects of the sport, for example bike- handling, climbing down a cliff or race preparation! These courses usually end with a race in which you can try out what you have just learned.

- 16 A Adventure racing takes place at traditional sporting venues.

ALICE BRADLEY

I guess you could say that acting is in my blood as my mother and father are both actors, my grandfather was a theatre musician and my grandmother was a singer and dancer. I suppose it seemed normal for me to do a little turn for family and friends. I certainly wasn't a shy wallflower.

I went to drama school in London on Saturdays from the age of six. We were taught how to sing and dance as well as act so I was a good all-rounder by my teens.

Once I'd left school I went to drama school in London full-time to do a degree. I must admit that I had a slight lapse in commitment at that time, for a period of about six months. I joined up with the party crowd and danced the nights away and slept late most mornings. It was only when my personal tutor told me that I was on my final warning that realized I might be expelled.

After the shock of that realization I got my act together very quickly and ended up graduating with a first.

The Royal Shakespeare Company gave me my first real role and I acted alongside some great names in the world of the stage. Now of course I'm better known for my Hollywood roles and people will probably be amazed to hear that I first walked the boards as a Shakespearean actor.

Paddle boarding

Paddle boarding is a mixture of two water sports, surfing and rowing. Paddle boarding uses a surfboard and the paddle boarder 'rows' the board. However, there are two big differences. In surfing, you have to stand but in paddle boarding you can kneel or lie on the board. In rowing you use oars, but in paddle boarding you mustn't use oars. You have to use your arms to move along. You can do the sport on rivers, but most of the big competitions are on the ocean.

The main competition for paddle boarders is the annual-race from Molokaito Oahu in Hawaii. The distance is 50 kilometers. On a good day, with the right 'kind of waves, you don't always have to use your arms because the water carries you some of the way but, on a bad day you are using your arms the whole way. Competitors must be very strong and athletic.

One of paddle boarding's most famous competitors is the Australian Jamie Mitchell. Not many people know about Mitchell, but he is the eight-time winner of the Molokai to Oahu race. He also has the record time off our hours, fifty-eight minutes and twenty-five seconds. Because the sport isn't well known, the prize money for winning paddle boarding is small compared to other sports. Mitchell only received $3,000 for winning the race this year. But Mitchell obviously loves the sport because he trains two or three times a day, six days a week, for the four months before the race. At the same time, he has to earn money, so he does anything including working in bars or building work. So how does Mitchell stay interested in such a sport? He says, 'I just love paddle boarding. It's not about winning. It's about coming to Hawaii and spending time with my good friends in a place that I love.'

11. T Paddle boarding is not just another name for surfing.
12. F Competitive paddleboard races are usually on rivers.
13. T Jamie Mitchell completed the Molokai to Oahu race in the fastest time.
14. F The prize money for first place in the race is three hundred dollars.
15. T Jamie would like to have little time with his friends in Hawaii.

Travelling abroad

Why do tourists think that the first thing they should do when they visit a new place is go and see cathedrals, museums and monuments? There are many things I like about traveling, but queuing up to buy museum tickets then having your visit mined by noisy tour groups is not one of them. The things that make places special are all around the famous buildings, not inside them.

My recent trip to India is a good example of this. By far the most interesting part of it was getting to know people - bicycle-taxi drivers, policemen riding elephants and children trying to earn some money by cleaning shoes. It was all so amazing that I didn't need to do any 'proper sightseeing.

I also have fantastic memories of Florence. It was a boiling hot day and the queue to the art gallery was at least a kilometre long. Instead of joining it I sat in a shady square, ate a delicious pizza and listened to a man singing opera songs to only a few listeners. If I had stuck to my original plan I would have missed this experience.

One of the best things about travelling is creating memories to bring back. When I got back home from a holiday in Malaysia, I made some of the dishes I'd tasted in the food market. Maybe my results weren't as good as the real thing, but they reminded me of the places and the people I'd met - far better than anything from a souvenir shop.

21. What is Josh trying to do in this article?

- A. explain what he likes to do on holiday B. recommend places for tourists to visit
 C. complain about the way tourists behave D. describe his favourite holiday destination

22. In India, Josh enjoyed

- A. going round famous buildings. B. riding on an elephant.
 C. talking to different people. D. playing with children.

23. On his trip to Florence, Josh

- A. got away from the crowds. B. went to the opera.
 C. visited the art gallery. D. walked around in the sunshine.

24. The Malaysian food that Josh made at home

- A. was difficult to prepare. B. was better than the market food.
 C. didn't taste very good. D. brought back happy memories.

25. Which postcard would Josh write to his friend?

- A. I went round this museum of local history with a group and the guide gave us lots of interesting information.
 B. I haven't visited any of the important sights but I've learnt a lot about this interesting country.
 C. I've done the cathedral, the castle and the art gallery and I'm looking forward to the museum.
 D. This is a fantastic place - lots of souvenir shops with very reasonable prices.

Now write a letter answering your pen-friend's questions. (about 100 words)

Hello Peter

I am so glad to receive your letter? I think you are learning at a very good university
I am now studying at Vinh University. It is a very good university with very good students and teachers. We have a lot of subject to do too.

Our university has very stick rules for students to follow. On Monday, we have to wear uniform which is given by the teachers. It is a very nice blue shirt and we have to wear the student's id too.

When it comes to the exam time, we are not allowed to bring anything but pens and calculator in the exam room. Furthermore, when we in the room, we can not ask each other and we can not talk. If anyone disobeys the rules, they don't have the chance to retake the exam again that year and that one has to wait until next year to retake the classes again.

That is parts of the rules we have to follow in the university. I think this rules are very good because it helps us be the better person in the future

I'm looking forward for your next letter

Yours truly,

Trung

GREENWOODS HOLIDAY VILLAGE

If you want to take the whole family on holiday, and keep everybody happy, then I have found just the place for you. I recently went with a group of friends to stay at the Greenwood Holiday Village, which is open from May until October.

Built in the centre of a forest, Greenwood is a place to stay whatever the weather is. Its main attraction for families is the indoor World of Water, where young and old people can have fun in the different pools. Some of these, however, are for serious swimmers only.

For sporty people, the Country Club offers tennis, squash and badminton. If your children are too young to join in these sports, there are activity clubs. Greenwood is a good place for families as it is traffic-free - you explore on foot or by bike. Some people complained that this was inconvenient, but I was pleased to be out in the fresh air. For evening entertainment, there are shows and cinemas.

Accommodation is in a variety of apartments of different sizes. These have up to four bedrooms, a kitchen and a bathroom, as well as a dining area. Before going, I thought the apartments might not be big enough for all of us, but I was pleasantly surprised - it was not too crowded at all.

I'll definitely go back to Greenwood next year. Why don't you give it a try? Visit their website for further information now!

21. What is the writer's main purpose in writing this text?

- A. to give her opinion of the holiday village

23. What does the writer think about the holiday village?

- A. The apartments there are not big enough.
- B. It is not convenient because you cannot use your car.
- C. It can only be enjoyed in good weather.
- D. There is something there for all ages.

24. What does the writer say about the apartments?

- A. There is not much space between them.
- B. Each one has its own bathroom.
- C. They all have four bedrooms.
- D. Not all of them have dining areas.

25. Which postcard would somebody send from the holiday village?

- A. Dear Jane. The children love the beach and all the activities. We've got a lovely 4-bedroom apartment. Love, Ann
- B. Dear Jane. As it's April, the weather isn't good, but it doesn't matter as there's a lovely swimming pool. Love, Ann
- C. Dear Jane. My parents love the swimming pool, and the children love riding around the forest on their bicycles. Love, Ann
- D. Dear Jane. We're a bit disappointed that we have to drive everywhere, but there are lots to see and do. Love, Ann

Dear Jim,

I went to Da Nang, last August. I went with my husband, my daughter, my sister-in-law and two nieces. We went by car. We stayed for four days in a big hotel with a sea view. We could see all the beach from our room.

First, we had a good breakfast in the hotel and then we had lunch on the beach.

In the afternoon, we walked around the town and we walked to the seafront. After that, we visited the fishing port and we saw "Phật Bà Quan Âm" statue at Ling Ứng pagoda. It's a great mountain over the sea. In the summit, it has an excellent view.

I took a lot of photos and I bought many things in the stands of the Artisan Fair that was in the seafront.

We had a great time. Da Nang is a wonderful place. I love it because the weather's good all the year.

I'm looking forward to hearing from you soon.

Best wishes,

Bloomingdale's

When the Bloomingdale brothers started doing business in New York City in 1872, clothes shops usually sold just one thing. But brothers Lyman and Joseph's new shop, known as the Great East Side Bazaar, carried a variety of items such as gloves, hats, skirt and underwear. It was the beginning of what would become a "department store".

The shop was very successful and, in 1886, the brothers relocated to 59th Street Lexington Avenue. This area of town was home to many wealthy people and, of course, to their servants. It was to this group of workers- not their employers- that Bloomingdale's originally aimed its services.

Bloomingdale's was always looking for new ways to bring in customers. Lyman advertised in newspapers and on posters to let people know about the store's products and prices. He had some interesting ideas of how to make Bloomingdale's more popular. For example, he was one of the first to install elevators, or "sky carriages" as he called them. The store also became the venue for fashion shows and other important occasions, including "Woman of the Year 1947".

In the 1960s, Bloomingdale's team came up with the first designer shopping bag. Since then many of these have become collectors' items and people pay a great deal for them. By the 1970s, the store was famous around the world. Even Queen Elizabeth paid a visit. For the first time in its history, it became fashionable with the under-25s. These days there are 36 Bloomingdale's stores in the USA and there are plans to open more. The first Bloomingdale's outside the USA is due to open in 2010 in Dubai.

- 11 T The brothers Lyman and Joseph called their first shop "Bloomingdale's" 12 F The brothers moved their shop because business was bad on the old site.
13 F People had to visit Bloomingdale's to find out what they sold.
14 _____ Lyman organized special events for the public at Bloomingdale's.
15 T The store began to attract younger customers in the 1970s.

Dream Job

Since 1969, Mark Harris has worked for a well-known toy manufacturer designing cars. When he started, he was the only man in the department, but now he is in charge of a team of 35 designers.

Mark first got interested in cars during his teens. His dad was a football coach and one day he took a car magazine away from one of his players during a practice session. He brought it home and gave it to Mark. From that moment on, cars became the love of Mark's life. He went on to study car design at university and then worked for a car company designing actual cars, before being persuaded by a friend to join the toy company and set up their design department.

Of all the cars he has designed, his favourite is the Silver Sunrise. It may not have achieved such high sales as some other cars, but it is important to Mark because it was the first time he was allowed to make a model that looked like a real car. 'Before that, the wheels on all the cars stuck out so they would go straight,' explained Mark. 'The Silver Sunrise was the first one where the wheels were under the body. It meant it didn't work so well on a race track but it looked amazing.'

Now in his 60s, Mark is approaching retirement. He finds it hard to imagine what that will be like. 'I have expensive hobbies, so it might be difficult to continue with them when I am no longer earning! Plus, I like coming in to work. Ideally I'd like to retire part time and work part time.'

21. In this text, the writer is

- A. giving information about how to become a toy designer.
- B. describing the career of one successful toy designer.
- C. persuading people to consider a career as a toy designer.
- D. saying what qualities are needed in a good toy designer.

22. Mark first became interested in cars

- A. after reading about them.
- B. while he was at university.
- C. when his father began to talk about them.
- D. by talking to someone from his football team.

23. Why does Mark like the Silver Sunrise so much?

- A. It is his top-selling design.
- B. It is very easy to play with.
- C. It is the first toy car he ever designed.
- D. It is more realistic than his earlier designs.

24. What does Mark say about retiring?

- A. He has no plans to retire in the near future.
- B. He would prefer not to give up work completely.
- C. He is looking forward to taking up some new hobbies.
- D. He has saved enough money to allow him to follow his interests.

25. What would Mark say about his job?

- A. It wasn't easy taking over such a big department as a young man, but I'll miss everyone when I leave.
- B. I'm proud of all the models I've designed. My only regret is that I never worked with real cars!
- C. My degree and previous work experience have been very helpful to me in my job. It's great to see how the design department has grown over the years
- D. As soon as I saw the advertisement for this job I knew it was for me. Luckily the company agreed!

IV. Read the following passage and circle the correct word A,B,C or D for each space.

II. This is part of a letter you receive from an English pen friend:

I have noticed that there are a lot of changes in the weather over the past few years. People on the world are trying to cut pollution and prevent global warming. What have you already done and what will you do in the future to help the environment?

Now write a letter answering your pen friend's questions. (about 100 words)

Hello Peter

I am so glad to receive your letter? I think we have done a lot of thing to make the environment changed. I and my friends are doing the voluntary job to help protect the environment

We are at the beach right now to join the campaign which asks people to pick up trash on the beach shore. We spend every 3 hours to collect the trash, after that, we go to local people's houses to teach them not to throw trash on the beach and to throw it a t the right place
Last summer, I went to Africa to learn how people here need water, they don't even have water to drink. We learnt to save water by the littlest action such as close the taps when don't use water or don't use too much water when having bath.

What about you? I heard that you are spending time in Africa now. What did you learn, write a letter for me as soon as possible please

I'm looking forward for your next letter

Yours truly,

Trung
